“HOW TO” AND FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

I am interested in starting a new business and/or developing in the City of Raymore. What is the first thing I should do?

If you are looking for a property to buy, build upon, or develop you may want to contact David Gress, Economic Development Director, at (816) 892-3015 or by email at dgress@raymore.com. Mr. Gress is available to assist anyone interested in starting or locating a business in the City of Raymore. Mr. Gress is knowledgeable on available land, building and tenant sites; contact persons for the shopping centers; and resources available to assist you in starting a business in Raymore.

If you have a property or building already selected and want to know what City approval is necessary or what the City code requirements are you can contact Dylan Eppert, City Planner, at (816) 892-3016 or by email at deppert@raymore.com.

Can I talk with City officials about my proposal before filing any formal applications?

Yes! The City of Raymore encourages early review and discussion about a project. The City has a Development Review Committee (DRC) composed of City staff members involved in the development process available to meet with individuals about a proposed project. The Committee can provide information regarding the development process in the City; can identify any potential issues or concerns with a proposed project or site; and is available to answer any questions.

The Raymore Planning and Zoning Commission is also able to review a concept plan for a proposed project before an application is filed. This process allows review by a group of Raymore residents directly involved in the development review and approval process. While no formal vote or action can be taken at this step in the process, the Commission can provide general guidance on the proposed project and provide valuable input early on in the planning process for the project.

To meet with the DRC or to schedule a review by the Commission contact Dylan Eppert, City Planner, at (816) 892-3016 or by email at deppert@raymore.com.

Where do I get the necessary application forms?

Development application forms can be obtained from the Development Services Department at the Raymore City Hall, located at 100 Municipal Circle, Raymore, MO 64083 or online at the City website.

When do I submit the applications?

Applications may be filed with the Development Services Department between the hours of 8:00 am and 5:00 pm Monday thru Friday. You may submit electronic copies of the application to deppert@raymore.com but you will need to submit the application with the original signatures of the property owner and applicant to the Department. Any required filing fee must be paid when the application is filed.

The 2022 meeting calendar, attached as Exhibit A, provides the filing deadlines for the meetings of the Planning and Zoning Commission. The Commission meets on the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of every month, so the filing deadlines are generally every two weeks.

How much does it cost to file a development application?

The Schedule of Fees and Charges, attached as Exhibit C, provides the filing and development fees for the City of Raymore. An application for Final Plat approval will also contain a development agreement that will outline additional fees and costs related to subdivision development. These additional fees are related to plan review and inspection fees for public infrastructure; emergency siren fees; and parkland dedication fees (if no public parkland is to be dedicated as part of the project).

Do I need to attend any meetings?

Depending on the type of application filed there will be meetings that you must attend. A few applications require a meeting to be held with the Development Review Committee prior to filing an application. An application for a rezoning, conditional use permit, PUD, or preliminary plat will require the applicant to meet with surrounding property owners and interested parties prior to any formal public hearing to allow early input from the Community. City staff will work with you to set a “Good Neighbor” meeting date and location and will notify the necessary interested parties.

Depending upon the type of application, you may need to attend a Planning and Zoning Commission meeting; Board of Adjustment meeting; Board of Appeals meeting; Parks and Recreation Board meeting; Tax Increment Financing Commission meeting; or City Council meeting.

When are public hearings required?

A public hearing is required for the following applications: Rezoning; Conditional Use Permit; Preliminary Plat; Planned Unit Development; Easement Vacation; Right-of-Way Vacation; and Variances. As part of the application process City staff prepares and sends all neighbor notices and publishes all required legal notices. Costs for the same are included in the application filing fee.

How do I check on the status of my application?

Call Dylan Eppert, City Planner at (816) 892-3016 or contact by email at deppert@raymore.com.

What is the staff's role in the process?

Depending upon the type of application filed, there are various City Departments involved in the review of an application. The Development Services Department is responsible for distributing the application and any accompanying plans to the appropriate department. A comprehensive staff report is then prepared that includes all comments and recommendations made by the various departments. The report is provided to the applicant and the reviewing body approximately 5 days prior to the meeting. The report is updated after each meeting of the reviewing body. Once completed the staff reports are posted on the City website.

How long does it take to obtain the necessary City approvals?

The length of time it takes to complete the review and approval process for a development project depends upon the type of application filed. For an application that requires a public hearing (rezoning; conditional use permit; preliminary plat; easement vacations) the review time is generally 75 days. For final plat approval the review time is generally 60 days. For site plan review, annexation, and variances the review time is generally 30 days.

Review times are extended if the applicant does not submit all required documents; does not submit revised documents in a timely fashion; or if the review body delays action on the application.

FINAL PLAT

There are three methods by which final plat approval can be obtained:

1. Minor Subdivision Plat
2. Major Subdivision Plat
3. Lot Split

A lot split is the simplest form of subdivision, but is only available for certain properties. A lot split can occur on property zoned “R-2”, “R-3” or “R-3A”. For a property zoned “R-2” the lot split occurs where the common wall divides the two units. The lot split must, as close as possible, divide the property into two equal halves. The Community Development Director is authorized to review and approve the lot split application. Process usually takes 1-2 days. There is no filing fee.

A minor subdivision plat cannot contain more than five lots and there can be no public street sought to be dedicated. No preliminary plat is required for a minor subdivision. Minor plats can be approved by the Development Services Director. There is no filing fee.

A major subdivision is a plat that contains more than five lots and/or includes a public street dedication. Preliminary plat approval is required. Process typically takes 50-60 days. Filing fee is $320.00.

Major Plat requires:

- Application signed by the property owner(s) of record
- A meeting (no public hearing required) before both the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council

ALSO:

- For a major plat construction plans are required of all public improvements
- A development agreement will be prepared by the City and must be signed by applicant(s) prior to the City Council meeting

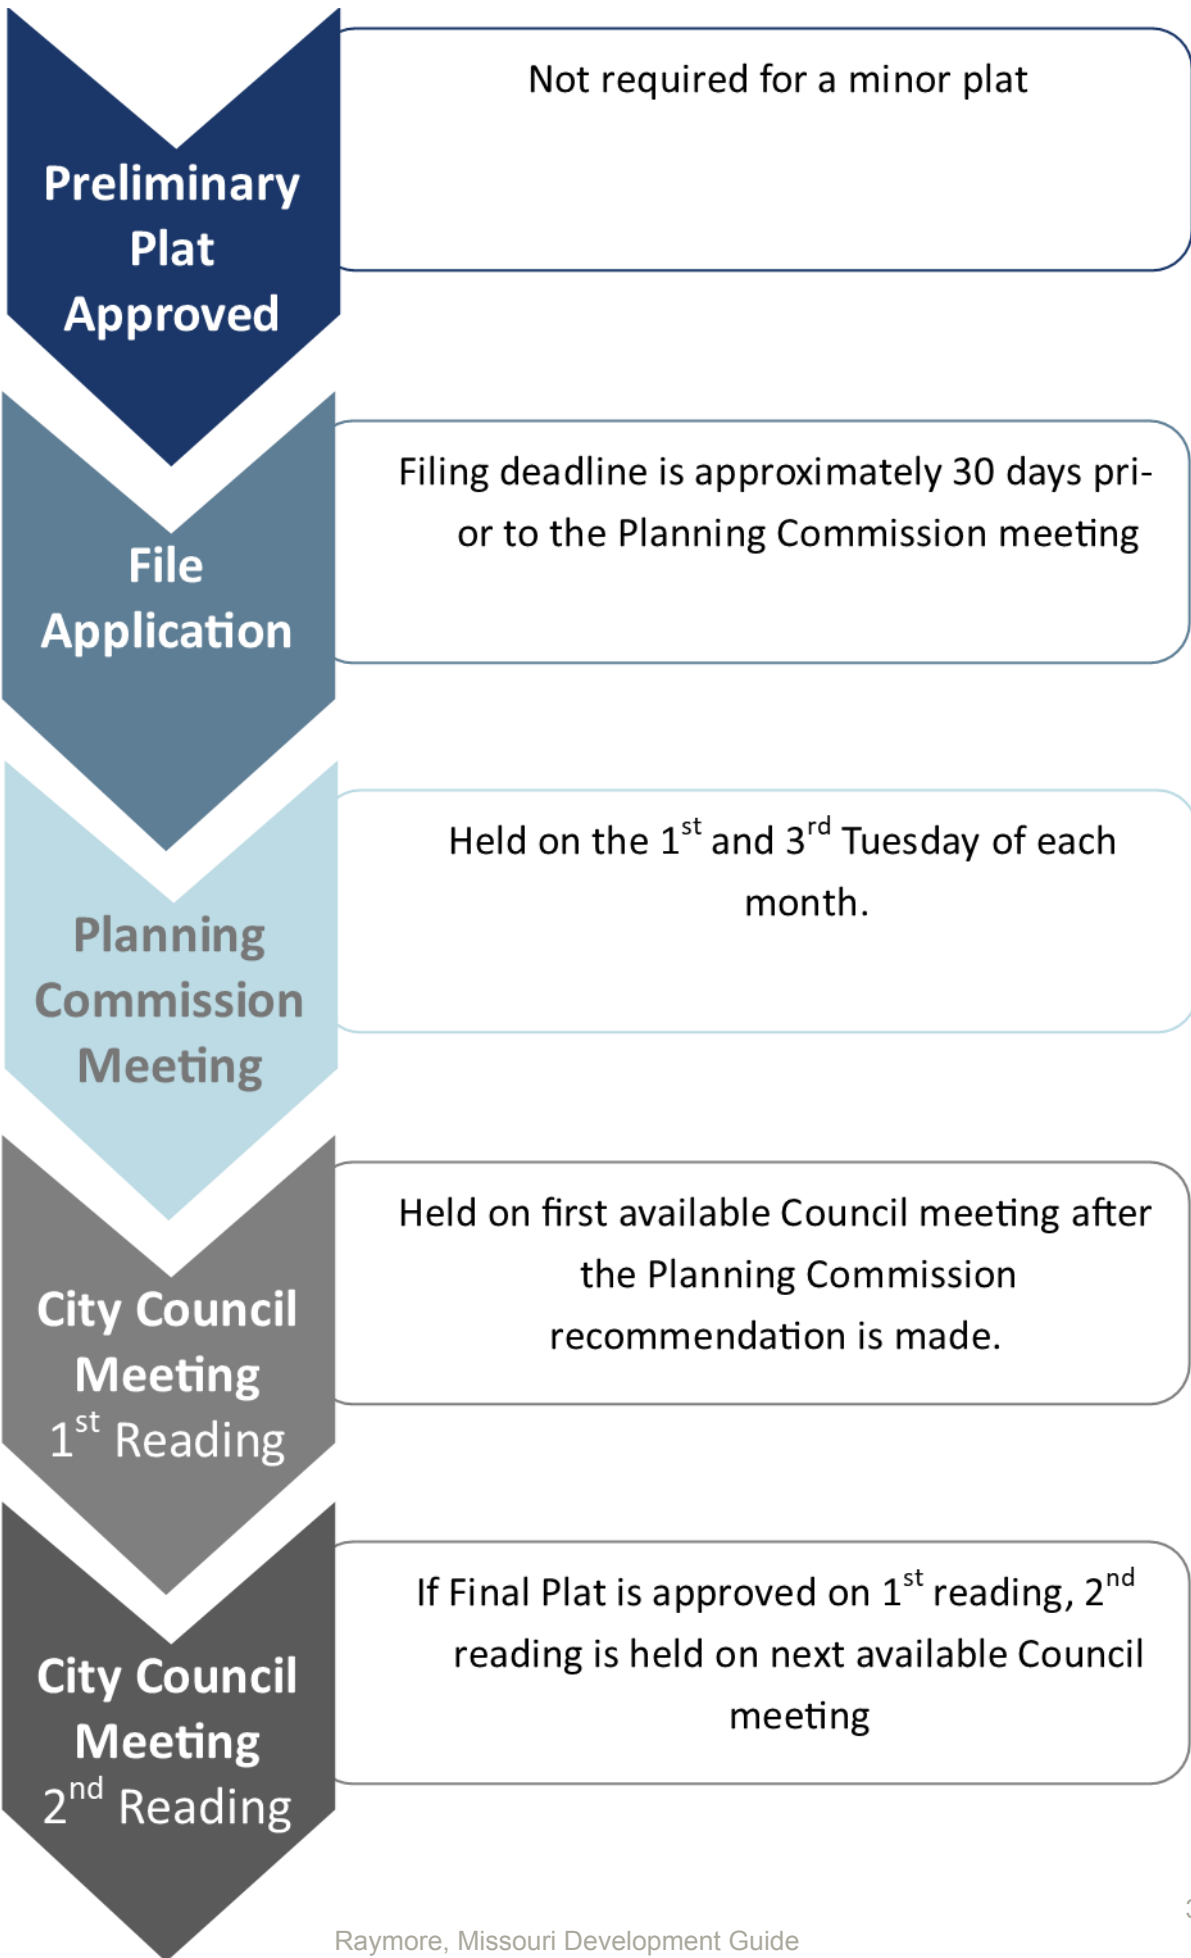

Applicants or a designated representative must attend the Planning and Zoning Commission and City Council meetings. A staff report and recommendation is available 5 days prior to the Planning and Zoning Commission meeting.

Excise Tax

Trip Generation Table

The excise tax for the City of Raymore was approved by the voters in 2000. The purpose of the excise tax is to provide a funding mechanism for the construction and improvement of streets necessary to accommodate traffic generated by the growth and development of the City. The excise tax system implements a “fair share” approach by which new development that generates additional traffic pays its proportional cost of required street improvements by the City.

Residential Development

Any person who obtains a building permit for construction of a new residential dwelling unit is required to pay an excise tax. For a detached single-family residence, the excise tax is currently $2,156.35. To calculate the excise taxes for any other residential structure refer to the excise tax brochure, attached as Exhibit I.

Commercial/Industrial Development

For any non-residential development in areas where economic development incentives are provided, the excise tax must be paid. If the non-residential development is in an area where there are no economic development incentives, then no excise tax is due. The amount of excise tax due is based upon the classification of the use and any credits that may be applicable.

The excise tax is calculated by James Cadoret, AICP, License Tax Administrator. For residential building permits the excise tax is paid at the time the permit is issued. For commercial and industrial projects payment of the excise tax is due at the time the permit is issued, but a request to defer payment until the time of issuance of the Certificate of Occupancy can be made by completion and approval of the application.

If a land use is not identified in the Trip Generation Table the License Tax Administrator utilizes the 10th Edition of the ITE Trip Generation Manual to determine the land use classification and associated trip generation rate.

The trip generation table, informational brochure and calculation worksheet are available in Appendix H. The excise tax trip generation table and brochure are attached in the exhibit section of this development guide.

What is the License Tax Surcharge?

The purpose of the license tax surcharge is to provide a funding mechanism for the construction and improvement of streets necessary to accommodate traffic generated by the growth and development of the City. The license tax surcharge system implements a “fair share” approach by which new development that generates additional traffic pays its proportional cost of required street improvements in the City.

Who Pays the License Tax Surcharge?

Any person who obtains a building permit for construction of a new residential dwelling unit and any non-residential development in areas where economic development incentives are provided, that generates new traffic in the City of Raymore. Certain credits and exemptions apply to tax-exempt entities and for existing businesses that relocate to areas where economic development incentives are provided.

When is the Surcharge Paid?

Typically the license tax surcharge is paid when the building permit is issued for the new development. Payment of the surcharge for non-residential uses may be deferred until the issuance of a certificate of occupancy.

How is the License Tax Surcharge Calculated:

Commercial/Industrial Projects

1. The proposed development is classified under one of the land use categories identified in the Trip Generation Rate Table.
2. Divide the square footage of the building or tenant space by 1,000 to determine the taxable portion of the building.
3. Multiply the taxable portion of the building by the adjusted peak trips generation rate from the trip generation rate table to determine the total number of vehicle trips to be generated.
4. Multiply the total number of vehicle trips to be generated by the tax rate to determine the license tax due.
5. Example: 6,700 square foot electronics store:

$$6,700 \div 1,000 = 6.7$$

$$6.7 \times 4.50 = 30.15$$

$$30.15 \times $582 = $17,547.30$$

License Tax Due: $17,547.30

Residential Projects

1. The proposed development is classified under one of the land use categories identified in the Trip Generation Table.
2. The adjusted peak trips generation rate is multiplied by the tax rate to determine the license tax due.
3. Example:

$$\text{Single Family Residence:}$$

$$1.01 \times 2,179 = $2,200.79$$

License Tax Due: $2,200.79

Disclaimer: License tax due is ultimately determined by the License Tax Administrator. Any decision of the License Tax Administrator may be appealed to the City Manager.

What is the Current Rate?

Residential: $2,179 per trip
 Commercial/Industrial: $582 per trip

Who Determines the Rate?

Rates are established by resolution of the City Council. In 2000, voters approved a maximum rate of $3,000 per vehicle trip. City Council receives an annual report from the License Tax Review Committee and annually considers whether to adjust the tax rate.

What Project Does the License Tax Surcharge Complete?

City Council adopts a 10-year road plan as part of the Capital Improvements Program adopted in October of each year. The 10-year road plan prioritizes road segments to be completed, including project year and estimated cost. From year-to-year the projected schedule and funding may be modified or updated. Surcharge funds can be utilized on maintenance of roads.

Raymore-Peculiar Sewer District

-  Raymore-Peculiar School District Interceptor Sewer District
-  Incorporated Raymore

The Raymore-Peculiar School District constructed a sewer line to serve Raymore-Peculiar Middle School in 2009. In addition to serving the school property, that line serves the area shaded in purple between the Raymore City limits and 291 Highway. Any property that may choose to connect to the line constructed to the sewer district will have to pay an amount to the school district proportionate to its acreage in this district. Any property that connects to this line will also have to agree to voluntarily annex into the City of Raymore at such time as that property is contiguous to the City limits. For more information, contact the Raymore City Manager.
